PRIZES

CREATING & LEARNING

Our program, “The Studio” is a hands-on learning and creating experience for both students and teachers to develop themselves. Students participate in active projects, fun activities, and community building sessions. Students identify challenges that they want to change in their community, and they design new models that transform the observed problems into innovative solutions. Students also connect and learn how to build relationships online and in their community, while also bonding with other learners around their interest. Upon completion of our program our students will possess the leadership skills they need to be successful in positively transforming our global community.
